

One person / a study group in a dark room

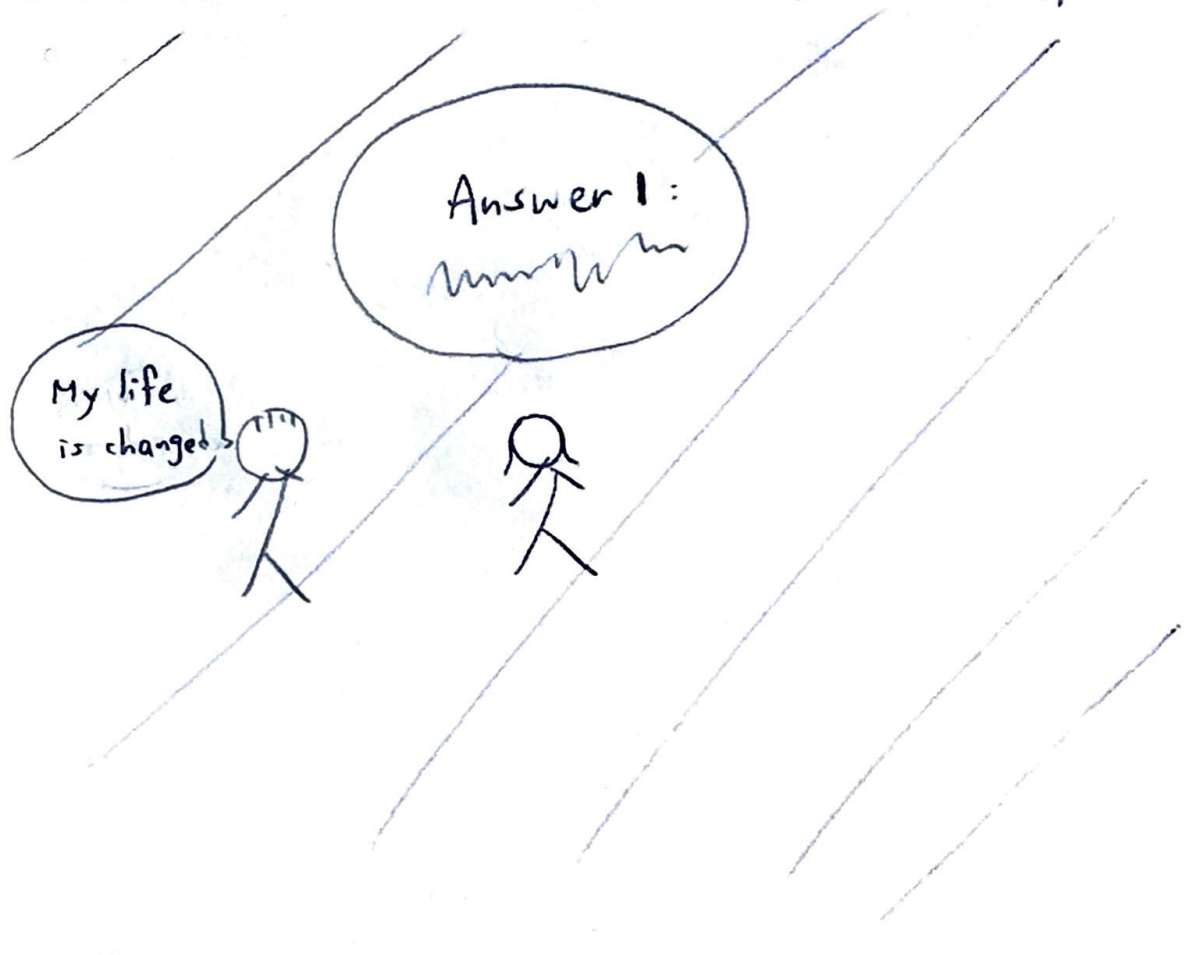

They start the review session. A projection of Question 1 shows up on the wall.

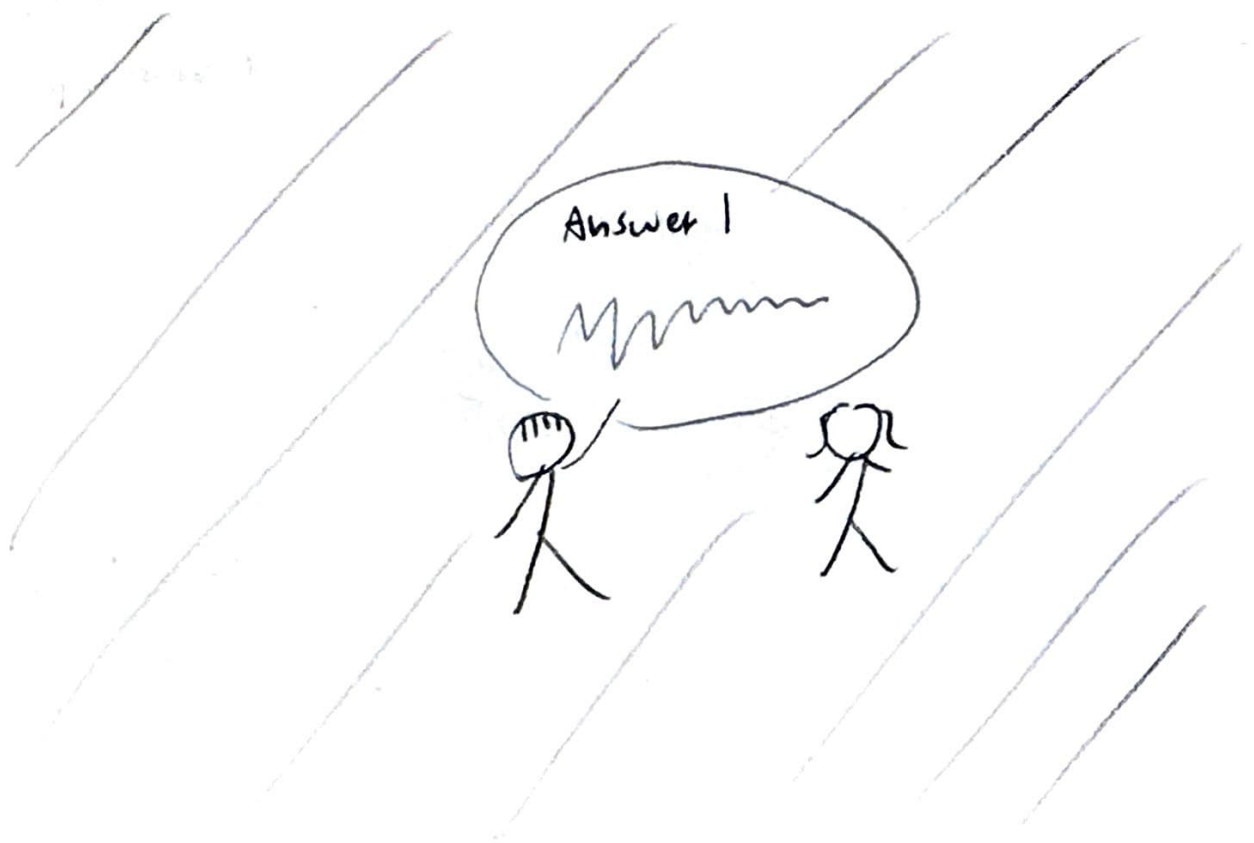

One person touches the question on the wall

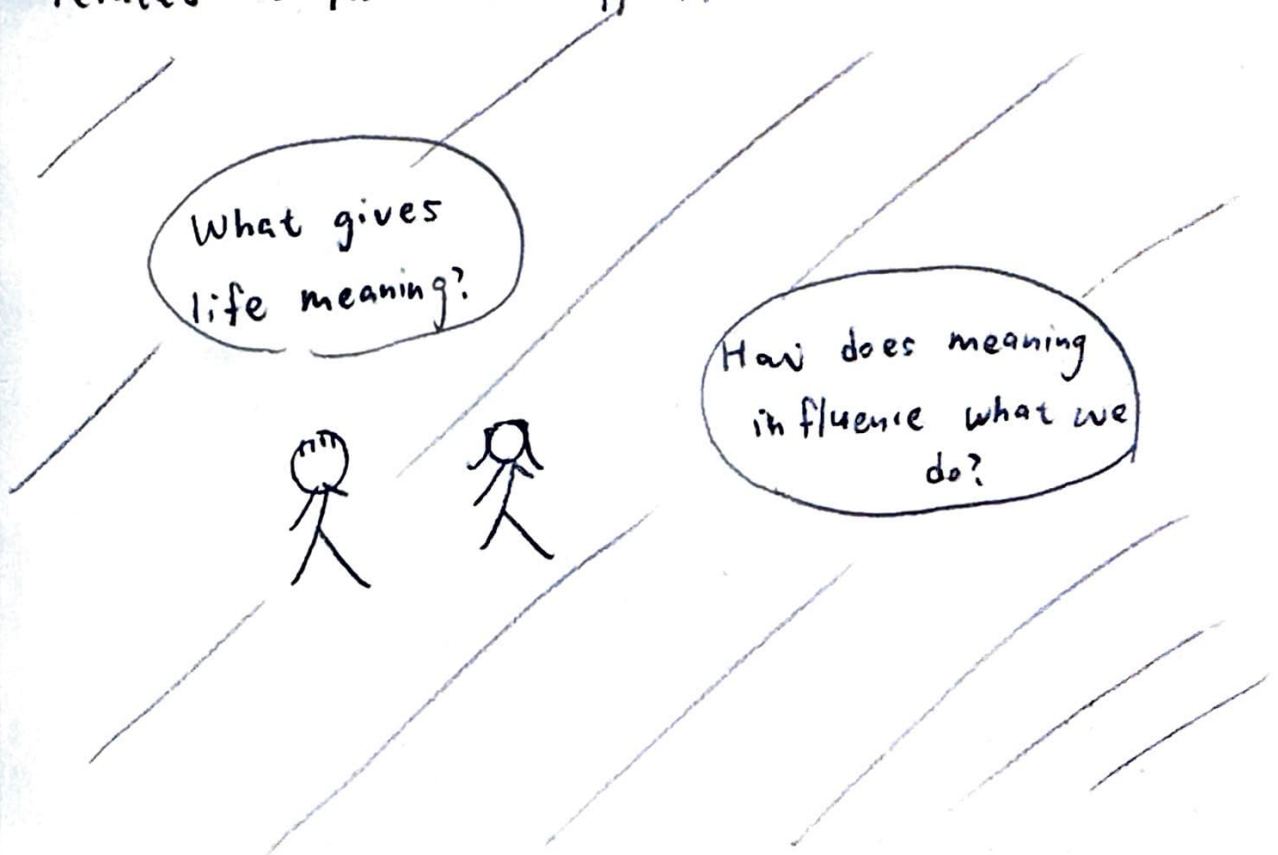

Question 1 vanishes. The answer to question 1 appears.

One person touches the answer. Answer vanishes.

After answer 1 vanishes, two questions that are both related to question 1 appear.

Two questions are both touched. The answers to them appear on the wall.

After all questions are answered, one person touches an answer. No other questions appear. Review session ends.

